BALTIMORE (P) — The head of two militant anti-Communist organizations has announced here that a nationwide "march on Washington" asking senators not to censure Sen. McCarthy will be staged Nov. 11.

Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, in Baltimore to be toastmaster tonight of a dinner honoring Roy M. Cohn, former McCarthy aide and a central figure in the McCarthy-Army hearings last spring, made the announcement.

The Senate is scheduled to reconvene Nov. 8 to begin consideration of a special committee recommendation that McCarthy be censured.

Rabbi Schultz said the march will be a "people's movement especially for Sen. McCarthy, who is being smeared."

He said the marchers would be urged to visit their home-state senators during the day to urge them to reject the censure recommendations, then to attend a mass meeting at a downtown hotel ballroom the night of Nov. 11.

The meeting's purpose would be the organization of a "Joint Council Against Communism in America." The council objective would be not only to fight communism but also to fight "aggressive smears of anti-Communists," Rabbi Schultz said.

Rabbi Schultz is national director of the American Jewish League against Communism, Inc., and coordinator of the Joint Committee against Communism in New York.

Limbley Boy, 2, Gets Arms, Legs

By EDWARD MARKAITZ
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Lonnie Lynn Williams is a little fellow you'd give an arm to help. That's what the plucky two-year-old from Lexington, Tenn., is waiting for today at the Mary Free Bed Children's Hospital and Orthopedic Center — an artificial arm.

It is the second major trip to the Grand Rapids center for Lonnie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Williams, who was born without arms or legs.

The people of Lexington joined forces with medical science to help Lonnie fight his difficulties. The fund in his name brought him to the center last May.

Lonnie was fitted with the first pair of jointed artificial legs intended for a child under four years. By June 21 he had been fitted with an artificial arm. It was also the first attempt for a child under four.

Spokesmen said his ready acceptance and use of the limbs were extremely encouraging but decided against fitting the second arm at that time fearing it would be "too much for a child that age to manage."

But hospital directors said he has made wonderful adjustments and expected developments Wednesday concerning the second artificial arm.

Grand Rapids Archer Bags 3-Legged Deer

GRAND RAPIDS (P) — Julius Zukowski of Grand Rapids bagged one of the archery season's first deer Saturday near Broham — but it was somewhat of an oddity.

Zukowski's 100-pound, five-point buck had only three legs. He said part of its right hind leg apparently had been severed by barbed wire or gunfire last season.

Kaiser Makes Deal To Build Cars And Jeeps In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (P) — Henry J. Kaiser signed a contract early today to manufacture cars, trucks and jeeps in Argentina in partnership with President Juan D. Peron's government.

The U. S. industrialist will invest 10 million dollars worth of machinery, representing about one-third of the capital, in the new company. He will manage the manufacturing for the new company, to be owned by himself, the Argentine government and Argentine private investors.

The agreement culminated two months of negotiations.

For Kaiser, the deal permits him to manufacture automotive equipment in Argentina — starved for cars and trucks — and with machinery he owns in the United States. This machinery is useless to him there, where the auto market is oversupplied and the independents are being squeezed by Ford and General Motors.

For Peron, the agreement represents the first big industrial investment under his plan to attract foreign capital, make Argentina the nation's self-sufficient and aid the nation's lagging economy.

Kaiser's goal is to produce 40,000 units annually in Argentina. Although machinery now in the United States is to be used here, Kaiser's son Edgar said that did not mean operations would be discontinued at the Kaiser-Fraser plant in Toledo, Ohio.

Censured Judge Plans To Retire

DETROIT (P) — Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan, under fire from fellow jurists because of his conduct off the bench, said Monday night he plans to retire Jan. 1.

"It is my own decision. I am simply retiring after more than 30 years on the bench," he said.

Misconduct charges against the 64-year-old jurist are currently being "considered" by the State Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Henry M. Butzel told newsmen at Lansing yesterday "the matter is being considered, but we haven't finished our investigation of the facts or come to any conclusion." He added: "The court can't ignore this matter and is not going to."

He said he did not know how soon the court would announce its findings.

Judge Brennan said he planned to await any Supreme Court statement before submitting retirement papers.

Judge Brennan was censured by the Supreme Court for misconduct in 1952. He was rebuked for neglect of official duties and for disgraceful conduct in public places.

The new censure move followed Judge Brennan's behavior Sept. 13 at a meeting of Wayne County circuit judges.

The white-haired jurist was ousted from the meeting by fellow jurists who objected to his conduct and language.

After the incident Judge Brennan pledged he would retire if he ever took another drink.

Baggage Tossed Out As Crippled Bomber Limp To Honolulu

SAN FRANCISCO (P) — Eleven men threw all their baggage into the ocean and even tossed out parts of the plane in helping a Navy patrol bomber limp on one of its two engines for half of the 2,400 miles from Honolulu.

The plane landed safely Monday at Half Moon Bay, south of here.

At that, the fliers heard the one good engine sputter 400 miles out when the Neptune was 1,000 feet above the Pacific. Only a quick adjustment of fuel mixture prevented a crash into the sea.

The port engine caught fire when the Neptune was 50 miles beyond the halfway "point of no return." The pilot, Lt. Robert E. Combs, 25, of Denver, feathered the engine and the wind blew out the fire.

Chances Improve

The party also is more hopeful of electing a governor than at any time in years.

While Republicans dispute that the opposition will wind up with any significant advances, a good many of them—party officials and candidates, as well as ordinary voters—concede that Democratic chances have improved in the two years since President Eisenhower captured the state decisively.

There is a perceptible, though by no means unanimous, feeling around Wisconsin that this is a Democratic year in this traditionally Republican state. You find it in cities hurt by unemployment, on farms where milk checks are smaller.

The sentiment seems to add up that the Democrats are likely to keep the two House seats they now have and perhaps yank from the Republicans one of two of the eight the GOP now holds.

German Arms Pact Assured Quick U. S. OK

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today he thinks the Senate would quickly approve the new nine-power agreement to rearm West Germany if the administration should submit it at next month's session.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he had not discussed the question with Secretary of State Dulles but that he thought the administration might seek early Senate action to give the whole plan added impetus in Europe.

The agreement worked out in London to restore West Germany's sovereignty and permit her to rearm involves a complicated series of treaties and revisions to existing treaties.

The Senate presumably will be asked, diplomatic sources said, to give its consent to the entry of West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It may also have to pass on a rearrangement of relations between Germany and the present occupying powers, the United States, Britain and France.

The Senate is on notice to meet Nov. 8 to consider a move to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) for certain aspects of his official conduct. The session is not limited to that subject, however.

Adenauer Receives Ovation For Pact To Free Germany

BONN, Germany (P) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer got an ovation from Parliament today as he reviewed results of the London conference that are to make West Germany a free partner in the Western world's defenses.

West Germany obtains "the full power of a sovereign state over its internal and foreign activities" through the historic nine-power agreement signed Sunday, he said.

The 78-year-old chancellor said the Western Allies would retain special rights only with regard to a settlement with Russia over reunification of divided Germany, the security of Berlin and a final peace treaty.

Democrats Expect Gains In Wisconsin

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

MILWAUKEE (P) — The political fortunes of Wisconsin Democrats seem to be rising this year—but probably not as high as Democratic hopes.

In an election in which the gain of a single seat will be important in establishing control of Congress, Democrats in Dairyland are counting on increasing their representation in the House by at least one or two members. They may succeed—although October signposts sometimes are wrong in November.

The party also is more hopeful of electing a governor than at any time in years.

While Republicans dispute that the opposition will wind up with any significant advances, a good many of them—party officials and candidates, as well as ordinary voters—concede that Democratic chances have improved in the two years since President Eisenhower captured the state decisively.

New Strike Ties Up Busy New York Port; 159 Piers Affected

NEW YORK (P) — A strike by longshoremen in a wage dispute today tied up the world's largest and busiest port for the second time in six months.

Tugboats still were operating and big liners were able to dock, but there was nobody to unload the cargoes.

There was no immediate prospect of a settlement between the International Longshoremen Assn. (Ind.) and the New York Shipping Assn., representing steamship lines and stevedoring firms.

Baltimore and other East Coast ports laid plans to handle cargoes expected to be diverted from New York as they were during a 29-day walkout last March and April.

Queen Mary Docks

The American Export liner Independence, first large ship to arrive since the strike started at midnight Monday, berthed without difficulty at a Hudson River pier. Non-longshore employees of the company handled the lines and the passengers' luggage.

The Cunard liner Queen Mary docked later in a similar manner. Police patrolled the waterfront. All 159 piers along the port's 350-mile waterfront except military docks in Brooklyn and Staten Island appeared to be hit by the strike.

Strikers picketed all piers at which ships were berthed, with the exception of military piers exempted from the strike.

The Hudson River piers are usually manned by the I.L.A.'s big Local 824. This local was the first to report a unanimous vote Monday night in favor of a strike, rejecting an employers' contract offer.

Report of a similar vote quickly followed from Anthony (Tony) Anastasia, boss of Brooklyn locals with 2,500 dock worker members. Other locals throughout the huge port quickly fell in line and shortly before midnight I.L.A. President William V. Bradley announced that 19 locals had followed the union's wage scale committee recommendation without a single dissenting vote.

Gangster Control Charged

Patrick J. Connolly, executive vice president of the I.L.A., linked the strike to recent charges made against the union by Samuel M. Lane, executive director of the Waterfront Commission of New York Harbor.

Lane last Saturday stated that I.L.A. was still gangster-controlled and had launched a drive to keep longshoremen who are not members of the I.L.A. from working. He said the commission was taking drastic action to prevent a return of "gangster-directed discrimination" in hiring dock hands.

I.L.A. officials denied Lane's charges the next day.

The I.L.A., an independent union since it was ousted by the AFL more than a year ago as allegedly dominated by racketeers, was certified last August by the National Labor Relations Board as sole bargaining agent for the port's 25,000 longshoremen. It won a slim victory over the AFL International Brotherhood of Longshoremen in a representation election held in May.

Back Pay Demanded

Since then the I.L.A. has been negotiating for a retroactive pay increase back to Oct. 1, 1953, when its last contract expired. It demanded that wages, which now amount to $2.27 an hour, be upped 8 cents and the employers' welfare contribution be increased from 5 to 7 cents an hour.

The union insisted that the back pay issue be settled before considering a new contract. The employers' group, the New York Shipping Assn., sought an agreement including both back pay and a new contract.

The shipping association, representing 170 steamship and stevedoring firms, made its final offer to the union Monday, agreeing to pay the 8-cent wage increase back to Oct. 1, 1953, and a 2-cent welfare boost back to April 1, 1954. However, it required that this be coupled with a new contract extending to Oct. 1, 1956.

Doctors Study Case Of Chicago Twins, Joined At The Head

CHICAGO (P) — The head-joined Andrews twins today were to be taken from the hospital of their birth to the Neuropsychiatric Institute where doctors will begin studies to determine the feasibility of a separation operation.

Born in St. Anne's Hospital Friday, the Siamese twin girls were seen by their mother, Mrs. Norene Andrews, 33, for the first time Monday. The father, Wilfred J. 38, is a salesman.

The Neuropsychiatric Institute, an adjunct of the University of Illinois, is the hospital on Chicago's West Side where the Brodie twins, similarly joined at the head, were separated in a historic operation in 1952. Rodney Dee Brodie survived the surgery. His brother, Roger Lee, died soon after the operation.

Andrews said he and his wife are optimistic that doctors, with the advantage of their experience

Jackson Banker, 73, Put On Probation For Taking $91,000

DETROIT (P) — A 73-year-old Jackson bank cashier who admitted taking $91,000 from bank funds to cover "the expenses of comfortable living" began three years probation today.

The sentence was imposed by Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton Monday on Roland B. Walker, cashier of the Jackson City Bank & Trust Co. for 25 years and an employee for 42 years.

Walker fled to St. Petersburg, Fla., last June. Arrested there, he admitted taking the money in small amounts over the past 15 years. He pleaded guilty to a charge of making false entries in bank records.

Walker said his salary last year was $5,800, including an $800 bonus.

Marilyn Asks Waivers On Joe

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Today's the day that Marilyn Monroe asks waivers on Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee slugger.

The busty blonde is slated to file suit for divorce. Her attorney, Jerry Giesler, said Monday that a conflict of careers caused the rift in the nine-month marriage. This was a romance that Hollywood never expected to get to matrimony's first base, so little did the two have in common.

Before she married Joe, Marilyn thought a shortstop was something that cross-country bus passengers did. DiMaggio hadn't seen a movie since "Pride of the Yankees," the Lou Gehrig story. He couldn't care less about Hollywood's dizzy whirl.

Giesler told newsmen as he left the DiMaggios' English farmhouse in Beverly Hills Monday: "The charges will be innocuous—the usual mental cruelty."

The lawyer said there would be no alimony and no community property in the settlement. He said both parties remain friendly.

Giesler denied reports that re-fared sidewalk photos of Marilyn's skirt billowing over her head during movie-making in New York had anything to do with the split.

Beaver Island Ferry Laid Up

CHARLEVOIX (P) — Beaver Islanders have been stranded, temporarily, without ferry service.

The motor ship North Shore which made the run between here and the Lake Michigan island was pulled out of service Monday when the Coast Guard refused to re-issue a certificate of inspection.

The Coast Guard said the ship wasn't seaworthy.

The Beaver Island Transit Co., which owns the ship, said it planned to replace the North Shore with another craft and continue ferry service until the traditional season closing Dec. 30.

In the meantime, passengers and supplies will be carried by a Charlevoix flying service.

Islanders were able to stock up with heavy supplies and provisions before the North Shore went out of service.

Beaver Island is virtually isolated from January until mid-April when ferry service resumes.

British Laborites To Tour Red China

LONDON (P) — Twenty Labor party politicians and trade union officials left today for a five-week tour of Communist China.

Their leader, Parliament member Ellis Smith, said they were traveling as individuals and not as official delegates of their organizations.

Adriatic Pact Plugs Last Gap In Defense Line

By STAN SWINTON
ROME (P) — Italy and Yugoslavia formally settled their bitter nine-year dispute over the Trieste free territory today and agreed on its division between them.

The division virtually coincides with the occupation boundaries established in 1945, with Italy getting the key Adriatic port of Trieste and Yugoslavia retaining the zone she has occupied since World War II.

Triumph For Diplomats

The settlement, signed by the two countries' ambassadors in London today and announced simultaneously in Rome and Belgrade, is expected to make possible the closing of the last gap in the Western defense line across southeastern Europe. Although both Italy and Yugoslavia are strongly anti-Russian, they had refused to cooperate militarily in the past because of their rivalry over Trieste.

The next step may be inclusion of Italy in the Balkan anti-aggression alliance Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey signed in August.

The agreement was a triumph for U.S.-British diplomacy, which prodded the two Adriatic Sea neighbors through long negotiations in London, Washington, New York, Rome and Belgrade.

Borders Designated

Under the agreement: 1. The port of Trieste and the rest of 86-square-mile Zone A, except for a small strip on the southern border near Lazzaretto, go to Italy. The zone has been under British-American military occupation since World War II. 2. Zone B, along with the small Lazzaretto strip, becomes Yugoslav. The 199-square-mile zone had been under Yugoslav control since Marshal Tito's partisans swarmed in on May 1, 1945.

3. The 3,000 Italians in the Lazzaretto strip can return to Italian-controlled territory and be compensated for their holdings if they desire. Some already have begun moving.

4. Yugoslavia will have full access to the port of Trieste.

5. Minority rights are guaranteed for both Italians in Yugoslav territory and Yugoslavs in Italian territory.

6. The 3,000 American and nearly 2,000 British troops in Zone A will be withdrawn in stages over the next three weeks.

Lost In World War

Italy won the whole of the Istrian Peninsula, including the Trieste territory, from Austria at the close of World War I and lost it during World War II. For 40 tense days in 1945, it was occupied by Yugoslav partisans. Then an Allied military government was set up.

The free territory was formally set up by the Italian Peace Treaty of 1947, which formalized the division of the area into two occupation zones. Under the arrangement, a governor was to be appointed by the United Nations, but the Russians and the West could not agree on a candidate.

In 1948, before Yugoslavia's Communist government broke with the Kremlin, the Allies announced that both zones of Trieste should be returned to Italy. This idea was dropped after Yugoslavia left the Cominform.

In 1952, Italy was given a hand in local administration of the Allied zone.

Plans Outlined For Farm Loans

"Modern farming is harder to get into and harder to stay in than it was in the old days. That is why Congress is helping the little farmers," said State Director G. Elwood Bonine, who is meeting in Escanaba today to explain the new Farm Home Administration loans.

Mr. Bonine said that in the past a farmer bought a team of horses and rented his first farm. "Now a young man needs $25,000 or $30,000 to buy land, stock and machinery to begin farming. The new loans are designed to help farmers by extending them credit when they cannot get it from private sources."

The Farm Home Administration, he explained, will give a young man up to 40 years to repay a loan. Private loan agencies and banks are prevented from doing this by law. "We are not in competition with the private loan agencies but are helping them," he added. "The FHA will insure loans made by private companies to farmers for improvement or enlargement of their farms."

The latest group of loans passed by Congress provide for improvement of farming practices of farming practices such as soil and water conservation. Bonine said that the FHA can loan money for irrigation, drainage, terracing and other conservation practices.

Administration of FHA loans in Delta County will be made by Byron Braamse who was formerly at this office as field representative. Braamse will come to the Escanaba office as county supervisor and appraiser. He will replace John Young who will be transferred to Marshall.

Final approval on the loans County residents, who assist Mr. Braamse. They are Carlton Van Duse, Cornell; George Williamson and Howard Logan, Rapid River.

FHA loans are in force in 17 states and are administered under the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Act. The loans are made only for family size farms and not to commercial interests.

Social Security Coverage Wider; Checks Increase

Through amendment of the Social Security act signed into law by President Eisenhower on Sept. 1, coverage has been extended and benefits increased, Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Social Security district office in Escanaba, told the Escanaba Rotary Club at its meeting Monday noon.

Johnson was introduced by Andrew Skaug, Rotary Club program chairman. Following his talk, Johnson answered a number of questions.

The 1954 Amendment to the Social Security Law preserve the contributory and self-sustaining principles of the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance System, as well as the wage-related character of its benefits, Johnson said. The amendments provide for the following changes:

Coverage Extended
1—Extend coverage to approximately 10,000,000 persons.

In Delta County approximately 900 self-employed farmers will be afforded protection beginning Jan. 1, 1955. All employees of state and local government units in Delta County can now be covered. All professional engineers, accountants and funeral directors will be compulsorily covered beginning Jan. 1, 1955. The clergy members of Delta County will be covered on a voluntary basis beginning next year.

The Social Security protection was also extended to additional domestic and agricultural employees in 1955.

Of interest to the commercial fishermen of Delta County is the change in the law which extends coverage to employees of anyone engaged in the taking of fish regardless of the tonnage of the boat.

2—All 1,657 beneficiaries of the Social Security program in Delta County received an increase with their checks yesterday.

An additional $8,246 a month will increase the total amount of benefits being paid in Delta County to roughly $72,000 a month. The minimum benefit to a retired worker beginning with Oct. 1954 is $30.00 a month. The maximum has gone up to $98.50 a month. In the future a maximum benefit rate of $108.50 for retired workers is possible.

More Protection
3—Starting Jan. 1, 1955, beneficiaries are allowed to earn $1,200 a year without suffering deduction in benefits. Too, beginning in 1955, workers, 72 years of age or older, may receive benefits regardless of their income from employment or business.

4—The disabled have been afforded additional protection under the Amendments through a clause which preserves their insured status and freezes their benefit amounts. It was emphasized that benefits are not payable to the disabled person until he or she attains age 65.

5—The Congress, through the amendments, provide benefits payments beginning with the month of September for widows, children and dependent parents of workers who died after 1939 and before Dec. 1, 1950, if the deceased worker had at least 6 quarters of coverage on his account at the time of his death.

Saves $160 Fine

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—The Binghamton Public Library's "fines free" day brought back a book of ghost stories that had been haunting an unidentified reader for 22 years. The fine would have approximated $160.

ON ESCANABA BARBERSHOP SHOW—Sharing the spotlight with the international championship Vikings quartet on the Escanaba barbershop song show Oct. 16 will be the Sweet Adeline champions of Chillicothe, Ill., shown above. Singing under the name of the "Big Four", the ladies claim a total weight of more than 800 pounds. All were formerly bass singers in their hometown chorus, and won instant acclaim when they appeared as a barbershop quartet. They won their championship at Milwaukee in 1953, have appeared in the Orange Bowl at Miami, at Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C., and at the Chicago and Madison music festivals. Members are Sara LeMaster, baritone; Inez Thompson, lead; Lucille Miller, tenor; and Bertha Bradley, bass. A third featured quartet on the Escanaba SPEBSQSA program Oct. 16 will be the For Mor boys of Madison, Wis., who are returning to Escanaba by popular request for their third appearance here. Upper Peninsula quartets and the Bay de Noc barbershop chorus, along with instrumental and novelty numbers, will round out the program here, the seventh annual "Harvest of Harmony" presented by local barbershoppers. The concert will be at the Oliver Memorial auditorium.

Soviet Papers Differ From American Press

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Writer

The only resemblance between a Russian newspaper and an American newspaper is that they are both printed on newsprint and printer's ink is used.

I write this after being a subscriber and a reader of about 40 daily, semi-weekly, weekly and fortnightly newspapers in the Soviet Union for nearly 12 years.

The American paper is a freedom's forum. If a Russian newspaper is a freedom's forum, then Joseph Stalin wrote Magna Charta.

The central committee of the Communist Party think of newspapers as the greatest medium it has of spreading its propaganda. The party may be inconsistent about some things, but seldom about its cynical attitude towards its press.

There is no such thing in Russia, of course, as public opinion as we know it. The Communist Party does not have to answer it and the newspapers do not have to reflect it. That's one reason why the papers are so bad.

The two largest papers in Russia are "Pravda," and "Izvestia." In Russian "Pravda" means truth. "Izvestia," means news.

There is an old saying in the Soviet Union about these two journals:

"There is no truth in truth, and there's no news in news."

"Pravda," incidentally is the organ of the central committee of the Communist Party.

"Izvestia," is the official paper of the Supreme Soviet, or the government.

During my many years in the U.S.S.R. as a correspondent for the Associated Press I became convinced that I wrote for the smallest audience in the world—that single set of censors who read and blue-penciled so many thousands of my written words. They alone saw far more of my copy than the ~~the~~ ever did.

But—it is not only the foreign correspondent who suffers under censorship in the Soviet Union. There is a censor at every newspaper office and he's not interested in the literary content of the paper. He's more important than the editor, for he decides what the paper can and cannot say and the way it can, or cannot say it.

One of the many mysteries of Moscow is—when's the morning paper coming out?

Usually they hit the newstands about 6 o'clock in the morning, but twice a week, let us say, they'll emerge at 9:30 or 10:30. I have seen morning papers with circulations running into the millions come out as late as noon.

A man at one of the big papers shook his head over this one day when I asked him what was holding up the presses.

"The censor," he sighed. "He made them do the leading editorial over not once but twice."

Does the Republican Party under President Eisenhower keep a censor at every American newspaper passing on what it can print?

Did the Democratic Party under President Truman have a party policeman in every editor's office?

No, for the American newspaper is the forum for freedom.

Autumn In The Upper Peninsula Is Nature's Great Masterpiece

REPORTS from the hunters indicate that this is an "off year" for grouse hunting in this area. The birds apparently are scarce but, frankly, there isn't too much to be concerned about. The woods are in their brightest hue and we have long suspected that a majority of the bird hunters actually are not hunting at all. They're out for a hike to enjoy Nature's greatest panorama of beauty—Autumn in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Upper Peninsula natives have said for years that the tourists who come to our area in the summer by the hundreds of thousands to enjoy our lakes, our forests and our climate for a week or two really should be here in late September or early October when the spectacular transition from green to rainbow hues occurs.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

"Could you please help me settle an argument?" asks a reader in Oakland, California. "I know that the plural of sister-in-law is sisters-in-law but which of these two sentences would be correct:

1. I am visiting my sister-in-law's house.
2. I am visiting my sister's-in-law house."

The first sentence is correct. In the words of the U. S. Government Printing Office's STYLE MANUAL, "In compound nouns the 's' is added to the element nearest the object possessed."

Admittedly this seems inconsistent, since you are correct in noting that the plural form uses the "s" on the first element in the compound noun but one of the charms of this wonderful language of ours is its consistent inconsistency.

Another Oakland correspondent, Ed McMahon, notes that "ampere" was recently defined in one of our vocabulary quizzes as a measure of light. As he points out correctly, an ampere is a measure of electric current, specifically that produced by one volt acting through a resistance of one ohm. And to think that your columnist—who left that slip by him—was once a licensed radio-electrician!

It reminds me of the remark made by New York's late, great mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, when asked to comment on the extraordinary behavior and remarkable public pronouncements of a judge whom LaGuardia had appointed to office. "I seldom make a mistake," said the Little Flower, "but when I do, it's a beaut!"

Do you know what a "pocket lad" is? And are you hep to the meaning of "20 lashes with a wet noodle"? For the meaning of these and nearly four hundred other items from the colorful cant of today's teen-agers, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to William Morris, in care of this paper, for your free copy of THE REAL GONE LEXICON. For the benefit of those who can't wait for their copies to translate the phrases noted above, the first means—logically enough—a father, and the second is defined as "punishment for a very stupid mistake."

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Last year when I visited Hollywood, I noticed a luscious young brunette behind the counter of a shop on Sunset Boulevard's "Strip." Ten months later (lo and behold!) she swept into a Park Avenue drawing room, bedecked in sables and jewels, the bride of a fabulously wealthy Wall Street tycoon. "How did you do it?" I whispered.

"It was simple," she drawled, flashing what must have been the Hope diamond in my eyes. "I saw at a glance that he had a great deal to offer—so I decided he might as well offer it to me!"

One of the most eloquent summaries of the traffic situation in midtown Manhattan today was delivered by a visiting French musician, here to make recordings with his fellow artists. The musician took in the scene from a perch atop the RCA building, shrugged his shoulders, and observed, "How wonderfully you have ze traffic organized here in New York! Nussing whatever moves!"

The Doctor Says . . .

Don't Take Tonsils And Adenoids Diseases Lightly

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The removal of tonsils and adenoids is probably performed more often than any other operation. Nevertheless it is not a procedure to be entered into lightly and certainly many of us can keep our tonsils and adenoids all through life without causing any harm.

The tonsils are small nodes or lumps lying in the back of the throat made up of lymphoid tissue. The exact function, if any, of this lymphoid tissue is uncertain though it is possible that it may trap and perhaps destroy germs entering the body as one breathes in air.

Possibly this view of the function of the tonsils may change, but up to recently, at least, they have not been considered to be of much value to the body and beyond doubt they can often be removed without any sense of loss.

TONSILS ARE a number of reasons which have been advanced for not taking the tonsils out. Removal of the tonsils is therefore advised against in the presence of tuberculosis of the lungs, severe diabetes, several kinds of blood diseases and when the patient themselves are acutely inflamed. Physicians also feel that they should not be removed at the time when a child is frequent in the immediate community. There are some other reasons for not taking the tonsils out.

THE REASONS for taking out tonsils are not always so clear-cut. Frequent attacks of acute tonsillitis is one. Difficulty in swallowing, breathing, or talking caused by enlarged tonsils is another. Catarrh or other infections of the middle ear is usually reason enough to remove them also. Also, if there is cause to believe that chronic infection of the tonsils is causing Bright's disease, arthritis, or other difficulties elsewhere in the body they are better out.

THE ADENOIDS are made up of tissue much like that of the tonsils. This tissue lies in the back part of the nose. The adenoids, like the tonsils, may harbor germs and cause chronic infection. In children, particularly, they may be large enough to interfere with breathing through the nose—most mouth breathers have enlarged adenoids.

Definitely diseased tonsils and adenoids should be removed surgically. They are sometimes treated with X-ray, by coagulation with an electric needle, or by radium (in the case of the adenoids), but the majority of leading specialists feel that these methods are usually not as satisfactory as surgical removal.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Were tens of thousands of American lives sacrificed in Korea as a result of treachery inside either the French or the British governments?

Was America's military planning with respect to warding off intervention by the Communist Chinese armies in Korea leaked to Soviet Russia and Communist China? Was the war in Indo-China won by the Communists because they were being constantly advised by spies from inside the French government just what the strategy and composition of the French forces were?

These become pertinent questions now as the following news developments are reported:

1. Two officials inside the French government who had access to the secrets of the French National Defense council—topmost military planning body—have confessed that they supplied information regularly to the Communists.

KNEW U. S. SECRETS

2. General Van Fleet, former commander of American troops in Korea, told the Senate internal security subcommittee that the Red China government most assuredly must have known that the United States had in 1950 ordered its forces not to fly over Manchuria either for reconnaissance or to bomb the bases beyond the Yalu River. Knowing this, General Van Fleet says, the Red China government had no hesitancy in ordering the attack against American forces. He said also that "some embassy source" may have conveyed the secret information to the Peiping government.

3. Corroboration of General Van Fleet's theory was given in a letter written in April 1953 to Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, by General Douglas MacArthur and read last week into the record of the Senate internal security subcommittee. It said in part:

"My own military estimate was that with our largely unopposed air forces with their atomic potential capable of destroying at will bases of attack and lines of supply north as well as south of the Yalu River, no Chinese military commander would dare hazard the commitment of large forces on the Korean peninsula. The risk of their destruction through lack of supply would be too great."

NO PRECEDENT IN HISTORY

"But by one process or another, it was conjectured by or conveyed to the Red Chinese that even though they entered the fray in large force it would be under the sanctuary of being relieved from any destructive action of our military forces within their areas. Such a limitation upon the utilization of available military force to repel an enemy attack has no precedent either in our own history or, so far as I know, in the history of the world."

"The results were disastrous beyond imagination and are still incalculable. When the Chinese Communists actually struck without warning and my orders to destroy the bridges at their points of entry over the Yalu into Korea were immediately countermanded from Washington, I realized for the first time the extraordinary decision which had been made to deny me the use of my full military power to safeguard the lives of my soldiers and the safety of the army."

General Marshall, who was secretary of defense at the time of the historic hearings in May 1951 concerning the dismissal of General MacArthur, testified before the Senate armed services committee that the American far eastern commander had been forbidden by directives sent him through the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff to do any reconnoitering or bombing beyond the Manchurian border. Secretary Marshall also revealed that on November 13, 1950 after the Chinese intervention the United States asked the thirteen other governments which had troops under the U. N. command in Korea for permission to lift these restrictions but they voted solidly against it. Thereafter came the major movement of the Red China armies inside Korea resulting in the bulk of the American casualties.

It was a military secret of the greatest importance to know what the United Nations troops would or would not do. The Communists, of course, had their agents stationed in high places on the Allied side. Thus Donald Maclean who was in charge of the so-called American desk in the British foreign office handled most all of the secret and confidential messages which went from the Washington government to Great Britain in the intimate consultations which were going on in those days with respect to the conduct of the Korean war.

When Maclean fled with Guy Burgess, another Communist in the British diplomatic service, to somewhere behind the Iron Curtain, Dean Acheson, then secretary of state, is reported to have exclaimed to a newspaperman who told him the news: "My God, they knew everything."

Have you noticed how most of the "why don't you" people seldom do, themselves?

One Of Every Eight Children Under 14 Suffers From Allergy

NEW YORK —(NEA) —Does your child frequently have a running or stuffed up nose? Does he cough, wheeze, sneeze breathe hard? These may be the tell-tale signs of allergy. For one out of every eight children under 14 suffers from one or more allergies. Or 8,000,000 altogether.

The symptoms may be fleeting at first and hard to detect. But, left untreated, they may in a large percentage of instances have serious results involving any tissue, organ or system of the body and leading to innumerable disease complications.

If one or both parents are allergic or there's a history, say, of asthma in the family, the outlook is much worse.

Dr. Harry Swartz, New York allergist, comes to these conclusions in "The Allergic Child" (Coward-McCann).

The author assails two "dangerous myths," commonly held and passed on also by some reputable physicians. They are that: allergy is outgrown; and children can be too young to be treated.

Nothing is farther from medical truth says Dr. Swartz. Those simple, itchy rashes of babyhood, those attacks of colic and recurrent "colds" easily turn into full-blown eczema, hives, stomach and intestinal upsets, bronchitis hay fever and asthma.

The consequences could be damaging to the personality as well as the future health of the growing youngster. Yet few parents are taught ways to recognize and prevent allergies in childhood.

Dr. Swartz offers these "common tell-tale signs of allergy in children":

Irritability. Overactive movements in the crib, excessive crying for no apparent reason disturbed sleep. Later, a compulsion to be on the run all the time, to start hostilities against parents, friends and teachers.

Skin reactions. Occasional transient hives, perhaps from the first day of life; welts, due to minor injuries unusually large swellings from ordinary insect bites. Insignificant rashes that come and go; rashes that appear with teething. Scratching or rubbing the skin. Unusual redness of the cheeks and a circle of pallor about the lips, which may be taken for the bloom of health but actually precede a rash.

Gastrointestinal reactions. Recurring cold or canker sores about the lips or in the mouth; loose bowels, constipation or vomiting; colic, inducing pain and crying; an aversion to certain foods or refusal to eat at all.

Respiratory tract reactions. These are the recurrent "colds" with or without fever, disappearing in 24 to 48 hours. They may be true colds. Their unusual frequency makes them noteworthy.

Nasal stuffiness, occasional sneezing, constant sniffing. Rubbing the nose may be a habit spasm; could be significant. Spasmodic, hoarse coughs with sore throat and difficult breathing. Wheezy breathing.

Eye reactions. Redness of eyes or lids; tearing of the eyes accompanied by rubbing; early matting of the lids.

Head reactions. Complaints of dizziness and headache.

Drug reactions. After sulfa or antibiotics, itchy rashes or other reactions not ordinarily expected.

AH-H-H-H-H-H! The simple rashes and colds of babyhood . . .

. . . can turn into full-blown hives or hay fever. CH-O-O-O-O!

These are not infallible signs. They are warning signals, however, which should alert parents to keep a close watch.

Prevention is beset by many hurdles, writes Dr. Swartz, many unscalable. There can be no immunization as in contagious diseases. But specific steps are at hand.

Actually, the prevention program should begin before birth. Ideally, allergies should not marry, says the author who concedes this is harsh advice.

Pregnant mothers, particularly those with an allergic record themselves but also all others, should avoid "food binges." She should also avoid eggs, and limit her milk diet. These may cause the sensitization of newborn infants to certain foods. Her diet should be greatly varied, with unusual or esoteric foods left out.

Dr. Swartz recommends breast feeding, wherever possible, after birth, since cow's milk is ordinarily the first foreign element introduced into the baby's diet and frequently causes allergic reactions. The breast-fed baby, he says, has seven times as many chances of escaping eczema as the bottle-fed baby.

(By Congressional Quarterly) CONGRESSIONAL BALL GAME Box Score — "Legislation-scarred Congressmen led down their hair, rolled up their sleeves, donned baseball suits and spiked shoes and sallied forth to do battle on the diamond. Excerpts from the July 1 Senate debate on the tax revision bill (Congressional Record, p. 9075):

Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D. W. Va.)—" . . . if the amendment is not stricken . . . will not the bill . . . provide a very definite benefit to . . . men with multiple wives, so to speak, playboys who have been married, and subsequently divorced, 6, 7, 8, 9 or 10 times—or perhaps even 15 times . . . ? Under this amendment would not they be permitted to make an income split for tax purposes, 10 ways or 15 ways?"

Sen. Russell B. Long (D. La.)—" . . . if a man had 6 or 8 or more ex-wives, he could obtain a 12-, 14-, or 16-way split."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D. Minn.)—"Are we considering the 'Manville amendment'?"

Imperialism At Home — "Some of the leaders of India have what doctors would call in a child, adolescent revolt. I have a daughter who is going through the same thing. She does not know what some other imperialism may be like, but she knows what the one is like she has been under for the last 15 years; she is against it."—Rep. Walter H. Judd (R. Minn.), June 29 House speech.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

LEAVE HIM ALONE—One of the major problems of the wife and mother who plans to be away for a few days is to so stock the refrigerator, the bread box, the cookie jar and the pantry that husband and children will have something to eat until she returns.

For she will tell you that, left to their own devices, the father and his children would virtually starve to death in their own house while she is away.

Let mother say that she will be away for a couple days and husband's face will assume a resigned but suffering expression, while the children will groan audibly in dismay.

Before she leaves the lady of the house will announce: That she has cooked a pot roast and left it in the refrigerator; there is an ample supply of home-baked bread on hand; she has paid the milk man "but don't forget to put out the bottles," and that all the washing and ironing is done.

"All I ask is that you keep the dishes washed and get up early enough in the morning to have a good breakfast," she says, and leaves for three short days.

THEY DON'T LIKE IT—Father and children put up a brave front for a few hours.

Then the routine established by mother begins to fall apart. Everyone is in too much of a hurry at lunchtime to do more than eat a cold snack. Somehow the dishes pile up in the sink—and the pile grows after every meal.

The second day is devoted largely to an exchange of a very important question: "Didn't mother say she would be back on Wednesday?" And another: "I wonder whether mother keeps the needle and thread (dust mop, can opener, coal shovel, soap, salad dressing)?"

Father begins having his lunch downtown and the children agree that the dishes will "just have to be done" before mother gets back. The decision is made to do them right after school.

Then mother comes home Wednesday afternoon. Sighing, she inspects the unmade beds, collection of scattered garments, the water running in the bathroom, and the kitchen sink filled with soiled dishes.

When the family arrives the house is tidy and there is the smell of freshly-baked cake. They welcome her with lavish expressions of affection and excuses for not keeping the house in order. "We were going to do it this afternoon—but you came home too early."

"I think I came home just in time," says mother grimly.

WHEN HE IS AWAY—Most husbands, he-men that they are, refuse to take their wives along when they go to hunting camp. "You just don't bother about me," says he, "I'll get things ready. I know what we need!"

Taken at his word, he becomes almost helpless as a child. He will have plenty of rifle shells but not one ounce of butter, six pounds of steak and no salt.

So his wife, as usual, diplomatically takes over the chore of getting her strong man outfitted for camp. She checks over what he has purchased and then adds essentials that he has forgotten. She supplies him with some extra socks and removes ten of the 15 pounds of beans.

In a last-minute flurry of preparation she keeps her head while he: 1—Exchanges the rifle shells he bought six weeks before; 2—Buys a carton of cake mix which he will never use; and 3—Dumps the canned goods in on top of the cartons of eggs.

MUTUAL ENJOYMENT—While he is away at camp for two weeks or more, the home goes along smoothly enough. The children may wonder vaguely where he is but they don't miss him too much.

Mother has some of her friends in during the evening and the days and evenings pass pleasantly.

Meanwhile, father at camp is having the time of his life. He struggles with cooking and dishes and hunting gear and sits up late playing poker with his fellow nimrods. If he is footsore and has a bad case of dishpan hands and the beans are too salty he never complains.

Yet when he returns home his haggard look tells the story of bumpy beds, lumpy gravy, burned beans and wet feet.

At first, Jim thought he had entered a huge underground cavern. A second look showed that Mrs. Oswald's studio had been set up in what must once have been the ballroom of the original stone structure.

The old woman herself was perched on a high stool beside a 20-foot-long worktable. She looked up when the two entered, glanced at her watch and then went on methodically with the work at hand. Because he had seen it before, in a more pleasing shape, Jim was able to recognize the trout even though it was now turned inside out.

The table itself, and every available space on the walls, was filled with samples of Mrs. Oswald's taxidermy. A peculiar odor of both preservation and decay filled the whole room. At the far end of the table from the old woman, a great horned owl grabbed frantically and lopsidedly at a papier-mache stump with twisted and misshapen talons.

Mrs. Oswald dropped her brush, pushed aside the fish skin. Apparently she had followed the direction of Jim's glance because she went on, "Not one of my better efforts, that owl. In the first place I didn't give the inside of the skin a thick coating of potter's clay." She sighed. "But then, it wouldn't have mattered. I tried to get fancy instead of using Graves' mixture of arsenic and alum."

Sheriff Agnes Argyle said, "I'm sorry about this, Mrs. Oswald. Your granddaughter."

The old woman looked down at her gnarled hand, closed it carefully and experimentally. She winced at the pain from arthritic knuckles. When she spoke again her voice had regained its customary harshness.

"Well, you're the official. What're you going to do about it?"

There was an understanding between these two women which went beyond the usual, far beyond the relationship of an elective officer in the presence of the power that is.

Mrs. Oswald seemed to notice him again. "What are you doing here? Why aren't you out threatening other old women with a spanking?" She made the cackling sound which passed with her as a laugh.

"He's a private detective," Agnes said.

Mrs. Oswald's shrewd eyes probed.

"So," Mrs. Oswald said. She turned again to Agnes. "Kit?" she asked.

"Yes, She hired him. And his wife."

"Still worried about that California business, is she?"

"You can be impersonal about suspicion," Jim said, "until it touches you yourself."

"What have we here?" Mrs. Oswald demanded. She lifted her hooded eyelids for a clearer view.

"Agnes, tell Mrs. Hilton I think she's a fool."

"Yes, Mrs. Oswald."

Jim did not see how the two remarks followed each other.

"But never mind. I suppose Philip has told you what we all were doing while — my granddaughter died?"

"Yes," Agnes said again and this time in her official voice. "Do you corroborate his story?"

There was that harsh cackle again. "Of course I do. Didn't I tell him what to say? And for your benefit, Mr. Dunn, it's the truth."

Sheriff Agnes said, "Could you think of any reason why anyone would want to kill Angelica?"

She put a sudden and unaccustomed quaver in her voice. "I'm an old, old woman and I wouldn't know about such things, Sheriff."

"Why should she have gone to The Spires in the first place?"

"Angelica always liked the place. I never did. That's the reason it got so run down I gave it to Pete—for his honeymoon. But Mrs. Kit wouldn't come at all — then."

"There it was, out in the open. An accident, or suspicion directed toward Miss Wister."

(To Be Continued)

Jim said carefully, "My client, Mrs. Kit, was suspect in the death of a man in California. That was proven accidental to the satisfaction of the police. Now a woman dies or is killed in the basement of the house Mrs. Kit occupies. Once again she is alone with her faithful cook, Mrs. Gelstrap. Coincidence?"

"Angelica could have been killed by the accidental fall of that elevator."

"If the death was accidental, the person who moved the body might have had a grudge against Mrs. Kit. You can see that, can't you?"

The old woman waved a gnarled hand. "You don't have to be obvious with me. Of course I see it."

Another body wouldn't look so good for your client. I hear Miss Wister has the Carlson temper? Who would have expected it of her?"

Jim gave up trying to direct the conversation. "What relation is Miss Wister to you?"

Mrs. Oswald cackled. "From what I've been told the relationship could be purely murderous."

Angelica saw Miss Wister occasionally. Sneaked off to see her, just as she sneaked away to marry that Jones man. After we had a suitable marriage arranged for her too!"

"If she hadn't sneaked away to marry, would you have let her?"

"That's none of your business. The important thing is that Angelica may have seen Miss Wister once too often."

There it was, out in the open. An accident, or suspicion directed toward Miss Wister."

Census Starts In Nine States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Census takers start knocking on doors of farm homes in nine states today to get facts for the government's 1954 census of agriculture.

By mid-November, the enumerators will have contacted all farms in the country to gather information important to farmers, governmental agencies and business and industry.

Information to be gathered by 31,000 enumerators includes figures on farm production, livestock numbers, farm resources, and on land used for productive purposes.

When tabulated, this information will show shifts in the agricultural production pattern from the census of 1949—information the government needs in carrying out various programs, from school expansion programs to tax programs to crop control operations.

The Agriculture Department depends heavily on the census for revising its periodic estimates of the production of various crops and livestock.

The results of the census will be tabulated and published in the form of news releases and reports, the first to appear early next year. The first series of reports will be for individual counties, with state reports to follow. Finally, a summary for the country as a whole will be made.

Missing American Brothers Turn Up In East Germany

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Two American brothers who vanished mysteriously from West Berlin early last month presented themselves at a Communist news conference today and said they had asked political asylum in East Germany.

The men are William Henry Starr, 30, an electrician, and James Starr, 31, an oil worker, both formerly of Westville, N. J. They had been living in Germany a year and a half.

The brothers were presented at a specially-called press conference in East Berlin which provided the first indication of their whereabouts since West Berliners reported they saw the East German highway patrol arrest them Sept. 7 on the Autobahn.

Rev. Eric Hagg Talks At Bethany Lutheran Program

"Why Don't We" was the challenge of the address given by Rev. Eric Hagg last night as he described the complacency of Christians who need to act. In 2000 years Christians increased their numbers to 600,000,000 while the Communists increased their numbers to 800,000,000 in only 37 years.

Rev. Hagg, of Moline, Ill. who spoke at the Bethany Lutheran Church, further expressed the complacency of Christians by comparing the amounts of time and money spent on luxuries with the amounts spent on charities and on church work.

Music for the special service included selections by the Senior Choir directed by Mrs. Cory Hartbarger, and the Sunday School and Triolet choirs directed by Mrs. Arthur Olsen.

Further special services this week will include talks by Rev. Hagg on "God's Chief Argument," "Your Religion is Showing," and "Anyone for Calvary."

Special music will be furnished by church choirs as well as other vocal and instrumental music.

These services will be held at the Bethany Lutheran Church at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Friendship Club To Open Season Thursday Night

Activities of the Friendship Club, an organization made up of middle aged people of Escanaba and community, will begin next Thursday evening at Club 314, according to Bertha LaChapelle, director of recreation at the club.

The announcement is made in response to many inquiries of people who participated in last season's activities. Started late last winter people bordering on the age known as "elderly" took to the recreation with enthusiasm. The sponsors anticipate its continuance on the same scale.

More Frost In Sight Tonight

There was frost on the pumpkins this morning and that was only the beginning. More is expected tonight. The temperature was a chilly 35 this morning and will also be in the low 30's tomorrow.

Yesterday's temperature dropped 30 degrees, from 65 during the day to last night's low. Today it will warm up slightly to about 50.

Early indications show that the month of October may be a trifle cool. A push of Canadian air has kept the mercury down and some spots dropped temperatures by 35 degrees.

Lower Michigan and Wisconsin have been under an almost steady drizzle for the past 24 hours. It was still coming down at 7:30 this morning.

Plane Forced To Land Along US-2 Near Epoufette

ST. IGNACE—Richard Wardell, Ypsilanti, and two passengers, took off in their plane from St. Ignace early Monday morning following a forced landing near Epoufette early Sunday.

The plane and occupants had been coming from the direction of Seney, possibly the Blaney Park Airport, when a low ceiling forced a landing near Highway M-2 and U. S.-2 where the plane remained overnight.

Earlier Monday morning, Michigan State Police were asked to provide assistance in keeping the right-of-way clear during the plane's takeoff, but due to other assignments the pilot was asked if they could get residents of the area to aid them.

Consequently, the plane after take-off, landed at the St. Ignace airport for refueling and check-over before the pilot headed for his home in Lower Michigan.

New York Gloomy In Days Without Papers

Almost a year ago, the world's biggest city found itself suddenly without any newspapers.

"Strike," said the man at the empty newsstand. "All the papers are closed down because of a strike."

So John Jones, New Yorker, shrugged his shoulders and went on home. He turned on the TV set to see what had happened that day. All he could find was a quiz show and a movie he'd seen several years ago.

He tried the radio and got a news broadcast, but it was nearly over and the announcer was giving

State Recommends Hiring Of Licensed Septic Tank Cleaner

When you septic tank needs cleaning, hire a cleaner who is licensed by the state and know what you are paying for, advises the division of engineering of the Michigan Department of Health.

Health Department engineers say recent complaints from householders show that a complete understanding regarding the service charge should be reached before the cleaning is started, and the best basis for payment is by the job rather than by weight or volume.

Don't be misled by promises of "quick" or "secret" cleaning methods, the engineers advise. The only effective method is to remove the accumulated solids.

The public has some protection against fraud through a state law requiring the licensing and bonding of septic tank servicing agencies. This license has been issued to an applicant only after his equipment has been inspected and found adequate to clean septic tanks in a manner not detrimental to public health.

The license must be carried on the truck at all times and the law requires that the license serial number be painted on the side of the vehicle in large letters.

Duck Hunter Finds Body Of Missing Pine River Man

ST. IGNACE—The body of John G. Ellison, Sr. 63, of Pine River, missing since February, 1954, was found on the shore of St. Martin's Bay early Sunday afternoon.

Discovered by William Hunsinger of Temperance, Mich., who apparently had been duck hunting in the area, the body was identified by Mackinac County Coroner George Davis and Michigan State Police Trooper Ned Seath of the St. Ignace post.

Identification was through a Michigan driver's license and a Civil Air Patrol certificate.

Ellison and his son John Jr., were reported missing last February when the two men started across the ice of St. Martin's Bay from the mainland to an island in the bay. Several efforts were made to locate the car and the missing men, through dragging the area and divers combing the bottom of the bay.

Observance Of Yom Kippur Will Begin October 13

Observance of the Jewish High Holiday, Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement, which begins at sundown Wednesday, Oct. 13, and concludes at sundown Thursday, Oct. 14, will be held at Carpenter's Hall in Escanaba. The Hebrew year is 5715.

Dr. A. W. Soffer, who has officiated the past several years, again will conduct the services which will begin at 6 p. m. Wednesday.

The Day of Atonement is the most solemn and sacred day in the Jewish religious calendar. It concludes the ten days of penitence and prayer ushered in by the New Year. In temples and synagogues the Jew petitions the Almighty to pardon his sins and to redeem his soul. It is a day of deep spirituality and soul searching, for on this day the heart strives to be "at one" with the eternal plan.

The whole day is spent in the house of worship. Services commence Wednesday evening with the chanting of the well known "Kol Nidre" prayer which ushers in the solemn day of Yom Kippur. According to Jewish folk-lore, on this day the recording angel causes all humanity to pass before the divine throne of justice. Each man is judged according to his merits and his fate is inscribed in the Book of Life for good or ill.

The Day of Atonement holds out to every man the hope and promise of redemption and salvation if only he repents his sins and resolves to live a better life in the future. In this time of conflicting ideals among nations, the Day of Atonement brings its message of peace and contentment for all humanity. It exhorts man to place the evil far from his heart and mind, for only through strict adherence to the principles of honesty, justice and good faith, can mankind live in peace.

The services for this High Holiday concludes with the blast of the ram's horn, or shofar, symbolizing religion's call to all men of good will to join together under the Fatherhood of God.

THE WRONG CRITICISM

When the following hand was over, all North could think about and argue was that he had been "robbed of three notrump by his own partner."

In view of South's freakish distribution, this was a silly argument—but North might have made some cogent observations concerning South's play.

South dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

♠ A 7 5 4 3	♥ K 10 9 2	♦ K 7	♣ 6 2
♠ Q J 10	♥ A 8 7	♦ 6 4	♣ 5

♠ 2	♥ —	♦ A J 10 9 8 6 2	♣ A 8 7 4 3

South	West	North	East

3 ♦	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
5 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

South, with 7-5-1 distribution, was absolutely right, of course, in refusing to let North play the hand at three notrump (which North might and might not have made, depending on his guess in the diamond suit.)

West, leading against the diamond contract, laid down the ace of hearts. South ruffed, cashed the ace of clubs and led a low club, his obvious intention being to ruff out his side suit. East took the second club lead and returned a heart, on which declarer discarded a club.

Slingshot Use Illegal In City

A warning that slingshots or the use of any rubber device for projecting missiles will not be tolerated was given yesterday by Police Chief Torval Kallerson.

Complaints have been received by the department that youngsters take the weapons to school and have used them to hurt other pupils after school is out.

Chief Kallerson points to the danger of unintentionally damaging the eyesight of some child and also points out that it is against the law to use a slingshot or similar weapon inside the city limits.

INDIGESTION OVERCOME BY O-JIB-WA

Chesley McFarland, Scottville, Michigan, found relief from gas, indigestion, and bloating after 10 years suffering.

"I have been taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS for about a year now and can truthfully say that it has made me feel like a new man. I have suffered with indigestion and stomach distress for about 10 years, during which time I tried dozens of patent medicines with little relief. Mr. McFarland was beginning to feel as though there was nothing I could do about it. I read so much about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the newspapers that I decided to try it too. Frankly the results were surprising for just two weeks. My stomach trouble is over and it really is great to be able to eat anything again without worrying about the after effects. I can't say enough for the good that O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me, and would highly recommend O-JIB-WA to anyone with the same troubles I had." Available in all leading drug stores in Michigan.

Fire Prevention Week Being Observed Here

A general inspection of the business houses as part of the Fire Prevention Week campaign in Gladstone is being made this week by members of the Gladstone Fire Department, Fire Chief Carl Johnson announces.

Posters have been placed about the city calling attention to the fact that this is Fire Prevention Week. Fire drills will be held in local schools and it is likely that talks on fire prevention will be made before assemblies in the various units.

In business places special attention will be paid to basements and wiring will also come in for a share of attention. At all places where hazards are found the owner or tenant will be advised.

The inspection always serves to acquaint firemen with the basement entries, stairways and heating plants and this may prove valuable in case of future fires.

Chief Johnson said conditions here are good, fires caused by rubbish, spontaneous combustion, faulty stoves or flues being few. He stressed the need of cooperation from everyone in eliminating fires, pointing out that over 90 per cent of all blazes are caused by carelessness.

Student Council Discusses Many Pertinent Topics

A committee to help mimeograph the Student Council Handbook was named at a meeting of the council this week. On it are Beverly Timler, Mary Cameron, Gloria Burcar and Karen Goldsworthy.

An inquiry on the handbook has been received from Onaway and the council moved to send the inquiring school one of the books when completed.

Inasmuch as the Escanaba game falls on Oct. 30 and there will be a dance that evening which will take the place of the annual Halloween party, it was decided to have a costume party or dance for junior and senior high students.

Individual parties will be staged or held by the first through sixth grades.

The school dance will begin at 8 and continue to 11 and Groleau's orchestra is being engaged to furnish the music. A penalty will be charged anyone not in costume. In defining costume, the students say it must be some type of apparel worn throughout the evening, not just a mask.

The Student Council will be in charge of the dance after the Escanaba game while the concession at the game will be in charge of the senior class.

Student behavior at regular assemblies and lyceum programs came up for discussion and Karen Goldsworthy was appointed to make a list of rules on etiquette which will be posted.

The Sophomore Class will have charge of the concession at today's game and of the dance this evening at the school.

Annual Smorgasbord Event Is Wednesday

Congregation Sweats As Mortgage Burns

DALLAS (AP)—Things got warm when they burned the mortgage on the Eagle Ford Baptist Church Sunday.

Seconds before the Rev. W. L. Harrod put a match to the mortgage, the air conditioning system burned out. This left the congregation sweltering.

Announced Harrod: "Satan just didn't want us to get comfortable in here." He was answered by a loud "amen" from the audience.

A quarter mile of lake frontage in Indian Lake State Park is being developed to provide over 200 new camp sites, Victor Haas, park manager reports.

The state park this year issued 3,489 camp permits, the highest in its history, and had an estimated attendance of 90,485, the manager said. Only six state parks in a total of 60 in the state had an attendance of over 3,000 this year, Haas added.

The new development on Indian Lake will give the park a total of 300 camp sites when completed, the manager pointed out. Two trucks are already on the job and a loader was brought in Monday. Five men from the state department of conservation are in charge.

The work includes road building and grading, leveling and filling. Next year, it is planned also to build a combination shower, laundry room and restroom in the new development.

Indian Lake park has a total of 320 acres, and of this about 100 acres is developed. A picnic shelter, bathroom, restrooms and combination shower, laundry and restroom are available in the section already developed. In the past, about 75 camp sites were provided at the park, and this year as many as 154 campers were registered. Picnic areas were used as camp sites to accommodate the overflow, the manager said.

Schools Here May Apply For Extra Milk Funds

Schoolcraft county schools this week are receiving forms needed to cooperate in the federal government's program to increase milk consumption, Mrs. Ludwig Hough, county school superintendent, reports.

The forms now are being mailed and will be forwarded to the state department of public instruction afterwards, she said.

The special school milk program was developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the 1954-55 school years and was authorized by an act of Congress this year. It is designed to expand markets for dairy farm products and to provide additional milk for children.

Local schools will handle the milk program, the superintendent said, and will be reimbursed for the extra cost monthly. The agriculture act provides that up to $50 million annually would be spent from Commodity Credit Corporation funds for this program.

Base rates on normal milk consumption in the schools will be established, Mrs. Hough noted, and schools then will receive reimbursement for costs exceeding the normal. Schools have until Oct. 31 to apply for the additional milk funds, she stated.

The forms are being sent to board secretaries and school administrators.

At present, milk is provided in schools through the federal surplus food program, Mrs. Hough noted. In Manistique, Doyle and Seney townships, the lunch program provides only milk; while in Germfask, Mueller, Thompson, Cooks and Manistique, a full noon lunch is offered. Hiawatha township has no lunch program, she said.

Oklahoma Takes Over Top Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—Without so much as an offensive huddle last weekend, Oklahoma's Sooners climbed back into the No. 1 spot today in the Associated Press college football poll.

The nation's sports writers and broadcasters brought the Sooners up front again from the runner-up spot after Oklahoma placed its 2-0 record out of reach with an open date Saturday.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's crew, ranked No. 1 in the opening poll, slipped to second last week after Notre Dame's impressive opening victory against Texas. But with Notre Dame knocked off by Purdue 27-14, the ballots again favored the Sooners, who collected 77 of the 153 first-place votes and totaled 1,369 points 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

The Irish were shuffled down to eighth while Purdue made its debut in the top 19 at No. 5 and 22 first place votes.

Maryland, last year's national champ and sixth a week ago, fell out of the top 10 and UCLA, which beat the Terrapins, moved from fourth to second.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (77)	1,369
2. UCLA (20)	1,245
3. Wisconsin (17)	1,086
4. Iowa (15)	1,073
5. Purdue (22)	1,016
6. Duke (3)	622
7. Mississippi (12)	543
8. Notre Dame	465
9. USC	297
10. Ohio State (1)	294
11. Rice	270
12. Penn State	244
13. Maryland	145
14. Florida (1)	140
15. Texas	130
16. West Va. (5)	115
17. Stanford	76
18. Minnesota	72
19-20. Tie Navy	72
Virginia Tech	35

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Take a smacking fullback who has gained an average of nearly 100 yards in every game he's played, add a strong line, throw in two smart topnotch quarterbacks.

That's the University of Wisconsin Badgers, ranked the third best football team in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll.

The fullback of course is Alan (The Horse) Ameche, a six foot, 210 pound charger who has picked up 2,928 yards in 30 games. Saturday (The Horse) ripped off 127 yards in 17 carries against Rose Bowl champion Michigan State—16 times more yardage than the entire Spartan backfield could gain. He went 28 yards for the game's only touchdown and the victory that boosted the Badgers up two notches in the national spotlight.

Has 18 Touchdowns

Ameche, 21-year-old senior, has scored 18 touchdowns at Wisconsin and was the Big Ten's top ground gainer his first two years. He set a Wisconsin rushing mark of 946 yards in his sophomore year.

End Ron Locklin was the stand-out in the Badger line that wrecked the Spartan ground game, yielding only eight yards. But the MSC backs didn't have a much easier time getting past center Gary Messner, tackles Bob Konovsky and John Dietrich, guard Norm Amundsen or end Jim Temp.

While most coaches will settle for one good quarterback, Wisconsin has two—Jim Miller, top passer in the Big Ten last year, and Jim Haluska, the Badgers' 1952 Rose Bowl quarterbacks who was out last season because of a broken leg. Both men played smart ball against Michigan State.

On TV Saturday

That's the nucleus of the team that might be the best Ivy Williamson has had in six successful years as Wisconsin coach. His overall record at Wisconsin in conference play is 21 victories, seven losses and four ties. His Badgers never have finished lower than fourth.

Last Saturday's 6-0 victory was "one of our greatest," Williamson said.

The Badgers opened the season by crushing Marquette, 52-14.

After playing host this Saturday to Rice, last year's Cotton Bowl champion, Wisconsin faces six Big Ten foes—four of them yet to be beaten: Purdue, Ohio State, Iowa, Northwestern, Illinois and Minnesota.

Pro Hockey League To Open Thursday

TORONTO (AP)—The National Hockey League opens another 70-game schedule Thursday.

The season running to March 20 officially starts when the Toronto Maple Leafs meets the Red Wings, defending Stanley Cup champion, at Detroit while the Chicago Black Hawks clash with the Canadiens at Montreal.

The six-team league includes the Boston Bruins and the New York Rangers.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK — Moses Ward, 160½, Detroit, outpointed Billy Kilgore, 165½, Miami Beach, 10.

BROOKLYN — Lulu Perez, 133½, Brooklyn, outpointed Bobby Woods, 132, Spokane, 10.

LOS ANGELES — Don Jordan, 134, Los Angeles, outpointed Art Ramponi, 135, Oakland, 12.

10 Escanaba, October 5, 1954

In This Corner

With Ray Crandell

Tom Brewer, Gladstone fullback, continues to pile up impressive yardage for the Braves. . . The bone-crusher collected 200 yards in 15 trips with the ball as Coach Don Pietenauer's Braves belted Marquette 28-7 Saturday. . . The big Gladstone senior is regarded as one of the hardest runners in the area.

Escanaba's left halfback Dale Manske ran like a scared rabbit when he scored his 70-yard touchdown in the rain against Menominee Saturday night. . . Dale slipped through the line of scrimmage on his own 30-yard line, shot through the secondary before the Maroons knew what was happening, and then really put on a burst of speed to pull away from everybody on the field. . . And considering the rain and mud, quarterback Jim Beck was amazingly accurate with his aerials. . . He connected on four of eight, and his receivers dropped two others that were right on the button.

You'll be seeing most of the Escanaba Central line back in action next football season. . . There is only one senior, Isadore Derkos, in the starting lineup. . . John Vadnais, Joe Juetten, Leroy Villeneuve, Mike Venne and Arnold Henriksen are juniors and Allan Villeneuve is a sophomore. . . The starting backs are different, though. . . Bill Lancour, Bob Rodman and Jim Greenwood are seniors and John Berigan is a junior.

Baseball Suit To Be Delayed

CHICAGO (AP)—The 12 million dollar anti-trust suit against 13 major league baseball clubs will not be tried until Jan. 3, and probably later, attorneys have disclosed.

Trial of the case, filed Feb. 21, 1952, by the now bankrupt Liberty Broadcasting System of Dallas, had been set for Oct. 13. However, attorneys said although the new trial date of Jan. 3 was set Monday, they believe it will be April at the earliest before the suit will be heard.

All major league teams except the Brooklyn Dodgers, Cincinnati Redlegs and Chicago White Sox are defendants in the suit. The suit charges violation of anti-trust laws and a "continuing conspiracy to monopolize and restrain competition in broadcasting and recreating play-by-play accounts of professional baseball games."

A representative of Liberty filed a similar $2,100,000 anti-trust suit in Philadelphia last week against the National Football League.

Conley Signs To Play With Boston Celtics

BOSTON (AP)—Gene Conley, the Milwaukee Braves pitcher, signed a contract Monday to play with the Boston Celtics basketball team for an undisclosed sum of money for the coming season. The 6 foot, 8 inch star who played 39 games for the Celtics two years ago is slated to spell Ed Macauley at center.

"Gene's a confident shooter, excellent rebounder and only needs a little polishing on defense," says Red Auerbach, coach of the Celtics.

Can Wolverines Rebound For Iowa Game Saturday?

By JOHN BARBOUR
ANN ARBOR (AP)—It was evident to everyone that Michigan was not playing very good football. It was also evident that Army was.

Army rebounded from a 34-20 licking by South Carolina the week before to beat Michigan 26-7. Can Michigan rebound with as much fervor against Iowa in the Wolverines' Big Ten opener next Saturday?

The answer may lie in University of Michigan training rooms and hospitals.

Fullback Lou Baldacci, who missed the Army game because of a shoulder bruise, is now laid up in a hospital by an attack of dysentery.

Right halfback Tony Branoff, who left the Army game in the first quarter, is still having knee trouble

Strikeout King To Get Stopper Chance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Meyer, the strikeout king of the International League, gets his chance tonight to try and check the march of Louisville toward the Junior World Series baseball title.

Meyer's Syracuse mates fell two games behind Monday night as the Chiefs were beaten 3-1 in the second game of the series.

Bill Verle limited Syracuse to four hits. Norm Zauchin clouted a third inning double to send home two Louisville runs.

Antonelli Rates Best Pitcher In Major Leagues This Season

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Southpaw Johnny Antonelli posted the lowest earned run average among major league pitchers while producing 21 victories and six shut-outs for the New York Giants during the regular 1954 season.

Antonelli, who had his talented left hand in two of the Giants' World Series triumphs over Cleveland, permitted 66 earned runs in 259 innings for a sparkling 2.29 earned run mark, statistics compiled by the Associated Press disclosed today.

Mike Garcia of the Indians, a 19-game winner, captured the American League title with a 2.64 average, barely edging Chicago's Sandy Consuegra, who finished with 2.67.

Consuegra 16-3

Garcia gave up 76 earned runs in 258 innings and Consuegra, with a 16-3 won-lost record, allowed 46 in 155.

A pitcher must work at least 154 innings to be considered for the crown.

Lew Burdette of Milwaukee wound up a poor second to Antonelli in the National League, giving up 74 earned runs in 237 frames for a 2.81 slate. Lew won 15 games and lost 14.

Ruben Gomez of the Giants, another World Series victor, finished third with 2.84 on 70 earned runs in 222 innings. He had a 17-9 won-lost record.

Simmons Fourth

Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies was fourth with 2.92, followed by Robin Roberts, also of the Phillies with 2.96 and Gene Conley of Milwaukee with 2.97.

Early Wynn of Cleveland ended up in a third-place tie with teammate Bob Lemon in the American League. Each had an average of 2.72. Wynn permitted 82 earned runs in 271 innings and Lemon, 78 in 258.

Steve Gromek of Detroit was fifth with 2.77. Next came Virgil Trucks of Chicago, 2.78, and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, 2.82.

Hurls Charge Of Dirty Football

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tony Morabito, owner of the San Francisco 49ers, accuses Los Angeles professional Rams of "dirty football" and warns:

"If that's the kind of football they want, that's what they'll get." Morabito spoke out following Sunday's dramatic 24-24 tie between the two clubs in Los Angeles—and with three key 49ers injured, two so severely they may be out for the season.

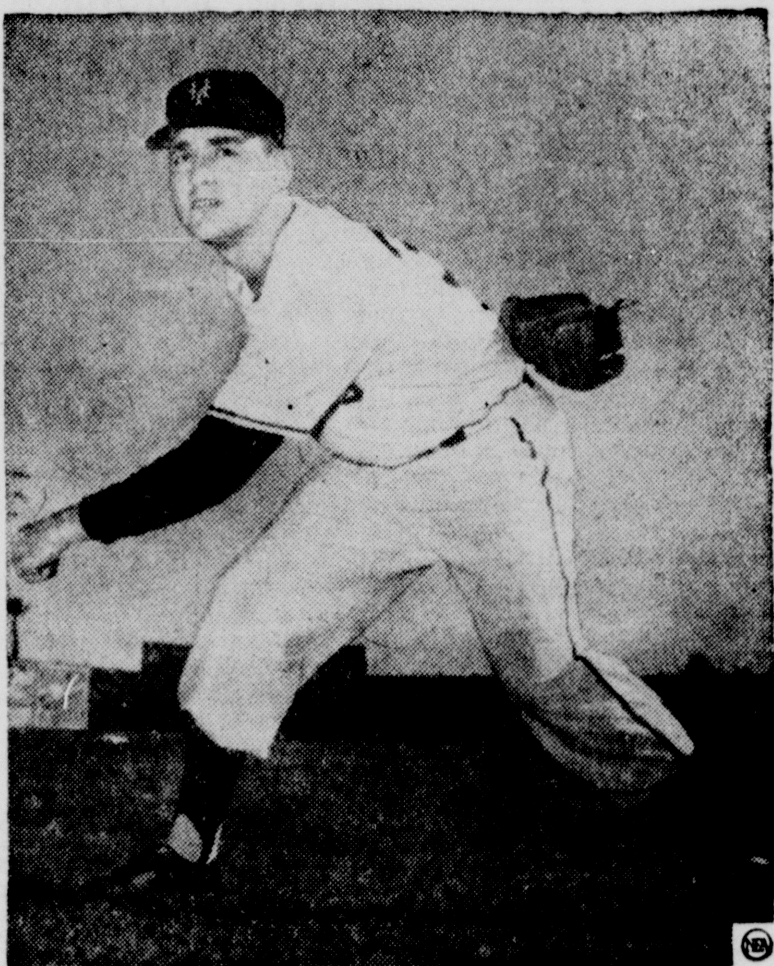

Ram Coach Hampton Pool vigorously denied Morabito's charges. He told the Southern California Football Writers' Assn. Monday: "I didn't see anything bordering on dirty football. I think Morabito's statement was due to his strong disappointment over the tie."

Morabito and 49er Captain Bruno Banducci took a much different view, however.

"I never saw a dirtier bunch of guys in my life," said Banducci. The two teams meet in San Francisco Nov. 7.

U. S. Golfers Will Play In Australia

Perez Moves Up To Lightweights

NEW YORK (AP)—Lulu Perez, 21-year-old fancy dan from Brooklyn, cast aside his No. 5 ranking among the featherweights after defeating Bobby Woods, the baby-faced lightweight from Spokane, at Eastern Parkway arena Monday night. It was his second victory in the heavier division.

Next on Lulu's agenda is a Nov. 26 meeting in Madison Square Garden with Frankie Ryff, unbeaten and ninth-ranking lightweight contender.

Lulu weighed 133½ Monday night in winning a 10-round unanimous decision over the 132-pound Woods.

In the other network television bout of the night, Moses Ward, hard-hitting Detroit middleweight, floored Billy Kilgore twice enroute to a unanimous 10-round decision at the St. Nicholas Arena.

The triumph earned the strong Negro a Nov. 1 bout with Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., at St. Nicks.

A 1-3 favorite like Perez, Ward weighed 160 1/4 to Kilgore's 165½.

PACKERS SIGN END

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Gary Kanfelc, an offensive end released by the Chicago Cardinals recently, was signed by the Green Bay Packers Monday. Green Bay also turned loose defensive halfback Don Miller who had come from the Cleveland Browns in the Vito Parilli-Bobby Garrett trade.

Eskymo Bees Play Stephenson Friday

The Escanaba Eskymo Bee team will meet the Stephenson Eagles reserves in a Friday afternoon game at the Athletic Field at 4.

In a previous clash the teams tied 13-13 at Stephenson.

The game scheduled for Saturday with the Kingsford Bee team has been cancelled at the request of Kingsford school officials.

Saturday, between halves of the Escanaba-Kingsford varsity game a practice cross country run will be held with Menominee, Escanaba and Kingsford runners competing.

S-Ball Players Meet At Field Wednesday

All softball players and managers of teams in the Escanaba Softball Association are to meet at Memorial Field Wednesday evening at 7.

Association president Tom Dufour called the meeting to remove the rain tarps which cover the playing field. If enough men turn out, the task will take only about 15 minutes, he said.

Hockey Board Meets Here Friday Noon

The Escanaba Hawks Hockey Association board of directors will meet at noon Friday at the Stone House. The meeting was postponed from earlier this week.

Preparations for the Northern Michigan Hockey meeting to be held at 2:30 Sunday at the Mather Inn in Ishpeming will be made at the meeting here.
